The Little Terns of Gorsant

The Little Terns of Gorsant project is a partnership between RSPB (YMU), Presthaven Sands Holiday Park and Dorsetshire County Council and has been made possible via the 'RSPB Area? Wales Birds Ireland' project

Our Commitment

Presthaven Sands Holiday Park fully believes in providing families with a leisure experience that allows them to spend time together in a safe and attractive environment. We also recognise the need for sustainable tourism when offering such experiences.

Therefore, our team is committed to enhancing the aesthetic and wildlife appeal of Presthaven Sands Holiday Park. In addition to this commitment, we are dedicated to educating guests about the importance of natural areas surrounding Presthaven Sands Holiday Park and supporting organisations that protect them.

The Gorsant and Salcombe Drove has been designated a SSSI (Site of Special Scientific Interest), which is designated at a European level because of its ecological significance. This area contains a special combination of sand dune habitats which provide an important home for rare species of plants and animals. We appreciate your help in us to keep this place special.

David Bellamy Conservation Award

The David Bellamy Conservation Awards are the UK's top environmental award for nature and conservation projects. In 2003 Presthaven Sands was awarded the Gold Conservation Award for its commitment to the environment.
